PREFACE

Free and fair elections are the foundation stones of any healthy democracy. As the largest democracy in the world, conducting free, fair and peaceful election in India is a challenging task. Election is conducted under the direction, control and supervision of the Election Commission of India. The State election machinery functions under the direct supervision of Election Commission of India for conduct of elections. With passage of time it has become increasingly challenging to conduct, smooth, free and fair election.

The Election Commission announced schedule for the 15th Lok Sabha Election on 2nd March, 2009. With the declaration of the elections schedule the Election Department prepared a detailed action plan for conduct of elections as also for training of officials. General Election, 2009 to Lok Sabha was the first general election for the newly delimited Parliamentary Constituencies. Photo Electoral Rolls were prepared as per newly delimited constituencies. Summary revision of rolls w.r.t. 01.01.2009 was taken from 07.01.2009 to 20.02.2009. Photo electoral rolls were used first time in any Lok Sabha general election. Total polling stations 42702 were set up. Six mobile polling stations were also provided in Jaisalmer district.

Emphasis was given on information, education and communication to general public. To facilitate the electors to know about the name of constituencies, polling booths of the newly delimited constituencies, helplines using three modes i.e. SMS based voter helpline, Call centers based voter helpline, Inter net based voter helpline were provided.

EVMs were used in this election. The use of EVMs was demonstrated on large scale in very nook and corner of the state. In Lok Sabha General Election, 2009 about 4 lacs personnel including police force were deployed in Rajasthan. They worked untiringly to ensure that the instructions of the ECI were observed in letter and spirit, and a free and fair poll is conducted. I would like to take this opportunity to put on record my appreciation for all the officers and employees deployed in election duty. They have made the state proud by conducting free, fair and peaceful election in the recent history of the State.

After the completion of election process the department has prepared this report to document the election process in the state. The report contains various facts, statistical data and important information about all aspects of election activities and also narrates various innovations and techniques used in conduct of elections. The managerial aspects related with the organization of Lok Sabha General Election, 2009 have been included in the earlier part of the report. A large number of tables have been included to highlight various aspects of the recent elections. Wide array of tables have also been given as annexure. These tables provide information related to decision of the state in various assembly constituencies, number of electors and number of polling station in each of the constituencies. Details of the voter turn out have also be given. Some of these tables highlight information related to participation of women in the election process. 1. INTRODUCTION

The Preamble to the Constitution of India describes India as a sovereign, socialist, secular and democratic republic. At the heart of the democratic system lies a commitment to hold regular, free and fair elections. India has the distinction of holding regular elections as per constitutional requirements. An independent constitutional body conducts the elections. The elections have been free and fair. The first delimitation exercise for Parliamentary and Assembly Constituencies was carried out in 1951. The next delimitation exercise was again carried out in 1956. Under Section 25 of the R. P. Act, 1951 the District Election Officer is responsible for providing polling stations and the publication of the list of polling stations. The polling stations are also set up more or less on a permanent footing, covering well defined polling areas. The polling stations are set up on the criterion (1) Number of electors assigned to polling station (2) Distance to be traveled by electors (3) Vulnerability.

Before delimitation of the constituencies there were 42212 polling stations in the state. After delimitation, the rationalization of polling stations was undertaken as per direction of the ECI on the following criterion -

- I. Each village with its own polling station provided the village has more than 300 electors and is having a suitable building for setting up of polling station and
- II. On account of any existing vulnerability observed.

Proposals for polling stations were prepared by DEOs. After getting approval of ECI, the lists of polling stations were published by concerned District Election Officer. The number of polling stations increased to 42591 before Lok Sabha General Election 2009, 111 auxiliary polling booths were also setup. During Lok Sabha General Election, 2009 total 66 slots for observes were formed. Details of slots are appended at Annexure-9.

Total 66 Observers were appointed by the Election Commission of India for these slots. These Observers also monitored the expenditure of the candidates. Micro Observer -

As per the direction of the Commission Total 5530 Micro Observers were appointed at critical polling stations in consultation with the election observer. These Micro Observers were appointed from the Central Government Employees on random basis. Due to shortage of officers in some districts, officers from Jaipur were also deployed for micro-observer duty. Trainings of these Micro Observers were organized by the concerned DEO. They were trained properly by the Observers on the relevant and crucial issues. These Micro Observers were responsible to Observers. The check list for the Micro Observer is appended as Annexure-9A.

9.5 Drafting of polling personnel-

A data base of all eligible poll personnel was maintained in electronic format by DEOs. Software was prepared with the help of National Informatics Centre at state level and was provided to all District Election Officers. Database included personnel both from State Government Departments as well as the Central Government offices. Central Government employees were utilized for micro Observers duties as decided by Observers. Polling parties were formed out of State Government employees of the concerned districts. As per directions of the Commission DEOs were instructed that persons put on polling duties should invariably be voters and further no person should be assigned polling duties in an assembly segment in which he is posted or in which he resides or the assembly segment which is his/her home constituency. Some DEOs like Pratapgarh, Jaisalmer and Barmer raised practical problems in drafting of polling parties in pursuance of these directions.

These districts were given relaxation in drafting of polling parties as follow as-

1. Relaxation of posting place
2. If still this is not possible to draft the polling parties in sufficient number then relaxation in the restriction of residence
3. If after giving the above said relaxations it is not possible to draft polling parties then it was directed for the formation of polling parties consisting of one PrO and two Polling officers for the polling stations where there were electors less than 500.

9.6 Randomization of polling personnel-

Following three stages of randomization process were taken for the formation of polling parties -

First Stage - Randomization - From full database of officer a list of 120% of the required nos of polling personnel were generated using the software. Presence of the Observers was not required at this stage. This was only to identify and select officials that were to be given training for all duties as Presiding and Polling Officers in whichever constituency of the State. All the polling personnel were able to know at this stage whether he or she was a presiding officer or a polling officer and the venue and time of the trainings.

Second stage of randomization exercise was done in the presence of Observers deployed in the constituency. At this stage actual polling parties were formed on random basis using the randomization software. At this stage actual polling station was not known.

Third stage of randomization exercise was under taken for final allocation of polling stations to each polling party in the presence of Observers. As per instructions of the Commission, the third stage randomization process was to be taken place at the time of dispersal of polling parties but due to practical problem in distribution of election duty certificates to polling personnel and other election arrangements the relaxation was obtained from the Commission to take third stage randomization on one day before departure of the polling parties.

9.7 Training of Polling Personnel –

A uniform calendar was prepared and issued by the Chief Electoral Officer for the training of the polling personnel in all the districts. Training material was prepared at State level and distributed to all DEOs in the form of "CEO Training Kit". This step was helpful in maintaining uniformity in the State. Three trainings were imparted to polling parties. All DEOs were instructed to impart training to polling personnel in a group of 50 persons by using Power Point Presentation mode. A test paper was also prepared at the State level and was supplied to DEOs. During the second training a performance test of polling personnel was taken through this model test paper. A training of third polling officers was also organized to familiarize them with the EVMs. DEO Chittorgarh established a model polling station at the training place for the polling personnel. This was innovated idea for qualitative training.

9.8 Training of other officials related to Election -

A uniform calendar for all trainings was prepared at state level and was circulated to all districts to maintain uniformity in the whole state.

Training to all Returning Officers, Assistant Returning Officers and Senior Police Officers were imparted at Divisional Headquarters.

Master Trainers for EVM training for all the districts were trained at state level. These Master Trainers trained resource persons to impart trainings in Assembly Segments. Training to Police Personnel and Magistrates were also organized at district level.

10. Material Management

The Election Commission of India ordered that General Election, 2009 to Lok Sabha will be conducted by using EVMs. A total of 54050 EVMs were available in the State. The number of contesting candidate in 4 Parliamentary Constituencies exceeded 16. This required extra ballot units in these constituencies. The Commission allotted extra EVMs from Gujarat (3000) and UP (3000 CU/2000 BU). 1927 EVMs from State Election Commission were also requisitioned. This fulfilled the requirement of EVMs in the State.

10.2 Use of Electronic Voting machine prior to Lok Sabha General Election–2009

These machines have been used since 1998 for Elections and Bye-Elections for Parliamentary/ Assembly Constituencies. In 1998 General Assembly Elections, Election was conducted through EVMs for the first time in five Assembly Constituencies of the State. During Parliament Elections 1999, Election was conducted through EVMs for the first time in Ajmer & Jaipur Parliamentary Constituencies of the State. After this Electronic Voting Machines were used in all Bye-Elections to Assembly / Parliamentary Constituencies. The details in this regard is as follows: -

S. No.	Name of the Election	Assembly / Parliamentary Constituencies

Comprehensive action plan for imparting to train the election staff and others and to create awareness among the electors about the use of EVMs was prepared and implemented by the Department. Before Vidhan Sabha General Election 2008 four officers from each district as master trainers were imparted training regarding the functioning of EVMs. These officers imparted training to 5 or 6 trainers for each Assembly Constituency. Who in turn imparted trainings to BLOs. An awareness campaign was organized in all districts to make aware voters about the functioning of EVMs. Booth Level Officers gave demonstration of EVMs for 2 days at every polling booths in the month October & November, 2008.

The documentary films on use of EVMs for polling were exhibited for general public in villages and cities. The Directorate of Field Publicity also exhibited films on EVMs in rural areas. This was also shown on Regional network of Doordarshan. Posters and pamphlets were printed and sent to districts for display. Posters were also put up at important places in the Constituency including educational institutions, important buildings, market places, public places and polling stations.

10.4 Checking and preparation of Electronic Voting Machines-

First Level Checking was carried by the BEL engineers at the District HQs. For coordinating all activities connected with the first level checking, DEO nominated a nodal officer. A database of CUs and BUs verified and certified was prepared separately. Software for randomization was prepared by NIC and supplied to DEOs. First randomization of CUs/BUs for distribution to Assembly Segments was carried in the presence of the representative of the recognized political parties. In this randomization, CUs/BUs were randomly selected by grouping them to support a requirement including reserves for each constituency. The surplus CUs/BUs were also randomly grouped and distributed Assembly Segment-wise for the purpose of training (for training of polling staff as well as for the purpose of voter awareness). A sticker of red color was affixed at the front side of the ballot unit/control unit set aside for training purpose and green sticker was affixed on the EVMs to be used at polling stations including reserves. This first randomization was done before the start of training of polling personnel.

EVMs were prepared in the presence of the contesting candidates for use in the election at polling booth.

Second level randomization of EVMs was done by the RO for the PC to allot the CUs/BUs to specific polling station in the presence of candidate or his agent or authorized representative and in the presence of observer. In case the Assembly Segment falling in the Parliamentary Constituency is not in the same district, the DEO of which was not the RO of the PC, the preparation and randomization of EVMs for that particular Assembly Segment was done at the level of ARO. Total 48798 CUs and 55771 BUs were used in Lok Sabha General Elections-2009. 299 CUs and 233 BUs were replaced before poll and 91 CUs and 84 BUs were replaced during poll due to mechanical defects.

10.5 Postal Ballot - Printing and Dispatch and Facilitation -

Postal Ballot papers were got printed within 48 hours of the finalization of list of contesting candidates by the ROs either at where local level or in Govt. Press. The envelopes were got printed from cooperative press in Jaipur and supplied to all districts. The service voters, officers deputed for election duties in constituencies other than where they were voters, were issued postal ballot papers. They were facilitated to drop their votes at the centre of despatch. However, postal authorities were being instructed by the Commission to deliver the postal ballot paper before the date and time of the counting. But there were complaints in some places that postal votes could not be delivered before the time of counting.

- Control tables are the tables in which the basic information and details of the rolls are kept so that electoral roll can be properly generated through computerized means. What is the status of control tables? Have they been populated? All the prescribed tables or a few?
- Whether BLOs are in place? Further check whether they are maintaining records of their field visits. Crosscheck, on random basis, to assess quality and veracity of field works done by them.

These inputs need to be analyzed statistically for each constituency with the district data and the State data, (wherever needed at polling station levels also). Certain abnormal figures/trends may come to your notice. Get them examined and record your findings.

 - Age cohort wise ratio similarly will reveal the quality of enrollment process and focus area for further cleansing of voter rolls;
 - Gender Ratio should be checked, where needed, polling station wise. Ask BLOs to re-visit and verify the female electors if sex ratio in any polling station is significantly high. - How many EPIC holding voters have been deleted? Can they be listed and test verified?
- All records pertaining to electoral roll revision and continuous updating of the roll have to be maintained till next intensive revision. Are they properly kept for easy retrieval?
